Dear Mr Mcculloch,

I hope this finds you well.

This letter is just to confirm that we've received your kind donation of £10.00, thank you so much!

I'm genuinely touched that Matthew's letter resonated with you. It's important to us that we're always candid about the challenges our teams face, and it's been heart-warming, and unsurprising, to see the response we've had so far.

And once again, you've stepped up to help.

Your gift could mean that we can reach someone who's isolated and struggling. It could mean that we're able to fill a fridge for someone who's just been discharged from hospital. Or it could mean comfort to someone who's lost everything in a flood or fire.

Either way, it's helping people. And it means a lot - thank you again.

Take care,

Ami O'Neill
On behalf of the British Red Cross team

P.S. Please remember, if our letters ever reach you at a time where you or someone you know is experiencing difficulties, you can speak to someone on our free support line. It's open from 10am to 6pm, seven days a week, on 0808 196 3651.

Dear Mr McCulloch,

Thank you so much for your kind donation of £10.00 to the Macmillan Spring Raffle 2022. Your gift will help us to support the three million people currently living with cancer in the UK today.

By 2030, it is estimated that there will be four million people who are living with cancer in the UK. By playing our raffles, you are helping raise money to fund Macmillan nurses and healthcare professionals, who do whatever it takes to provide vital support to people living with cancer.

After finding a small lump in his mouth, Jeremy was diagnosed with mouth cancer in 2014. He attended multiple appointments and started 8 weeks of treatment in the form of chemotherapy and radiotherapy. Shortly after, Jeremy underwent surgery to remove the floor of his mouth and part of his tongue, replaced by tissue grafted from his arm.

Thankfully Jeremy is now in remission, but remembers when he was in and out of hospital the fantastic support his Macmillan nurse was able to provide throughout his cancer experience. 'Our specialist Macmillan nurse was always on hand and we still attend a support group she started 13 years ago.'

Your donation means that Macmillan can keep doing whatever it takes to support even more people affected by cancer.

Thank you for your generous support of our raffles.

With best wishes,

HL Mahoney Smith

1st February 2022

Dear Mr McCulloch,

We've received your immensely kind donation of £10 to our Christmas Appeal and I'm writing to say a truly sincere – and very warm - 'Thank you' to you. You are a shining star! We are sorry for the delay in sending you an acknowledgement, but, as you may have read in the news, the Royal Mail are experiencing problems within their network and your kind donation has only just reached us.

Our fundraising is so important and when we start our appeal, I always offer a prayer and express a hope that it will deliver the funds we need to continue our work. That's why I'm so grateful that you made a donation. The Salvation Army is busy all year round, but the winter season is a time when we really do step up our caring work.

We're here for families who have so little, to help make sure they feel supported. We're here for older people; without us, many would have little or no company at this time of year. We're here for people who are homeless or battling addictions or recovering from forms of slavery – these people need us more than ever during the winter.

This is a time when we think of others. Your donation will help us do more than think, it will help us deliver the care, the kindness and the practical support that is at the very heart of The Salvation Army. I'm also thinking of you and how kind you have been to help us in our work. Your thoughtfulness will have helped us deliver much-needed support to someone in need. What could be a better gift than that?

Be assured of my gratitude and be assured also of my warmest greetings and best wishes.

May God bless you at this time.

Faithfully and sincerely,

Lieut-Colonel Dean Pallant

Dear Secretary of Builders Merchant Golf Society,

Thank you so much for being a Claire House supporter! Your past donations have meant that local children and their whole family have had the care they've needed; your golf club could help those families again.

Our Butterfly Team have supported families like the Hunters and their son Jude, who was laid to rest in one of our Butterfly Suites when he passed away at 15 months old. For mum and dad, the Butterfly Team, in their words couldn't have done enough for them.

Mum said:

"All of the hospice staff were so friendly and compassionate. They took away the worry of having to think or organise anything, we could just spend time with Jude knowing everything was taken care of."

The things that seemed small at the time are now so significant. His hand and footprints, made at Claire House, take center place on the fridge and it's so nice to look at them every day. Without the hospice, we wouldn't have that.

The hospice is only open because of people like you, making sure that families like mine have so many treasured memories."

Last year, Claire House were there to support 109 families whose children sadly died. The more people who know about our Butterfly suites, the more families we can help.

We would love to come and chat to you about Claire House and the difference we make to families in your local area.

Please give us a call or drop us an email to organise a visit.

Dear Mr McCulloch,

I'm writing to say a big thank you for your recent donation to the British Red Cross. By donating £10.00, you're supporting our crucial work here in the UK and around the world.

Thanks to the support of people like you we can be there for people in crisis. From responding to extreme weather events, to bringing kindness to those struggling with loneliness – your support means people don't face a crisis alone.

So thank you again, we really are so grateful for your support.

With best wishes,

Dear Mr McCulloch

Thank you so much for your kind donation of £10.00 in response to our Macmillan March Prize Draw.

As you know, Prize Draws help Macmillan Cancer Support generate essential funds to help everyone with cancer live life as fully as they can. Last year we raised nearly £1million through our prize draws – and that's thanks to kind donations from people like you.

At Macmillan we know how a cancer diagnosis can affect so much more than your health. The generosity of our supporters allows us to help people living with cancer when they need us most. When someone is diagnosed with cancer, their worries are our worries. We will move mountains to help them live life as full as they can. Every time someone is supported by a Macmillan nurse or speaks to one of our Information and Support advisers it is because people like you made it possible.

On behalf of everyone who will benefit from your kindness and generosity, please accept our sincere thanks. Your donations are helping Macmillan to bring forward the day when everyone gets life transforming support from day one.

Lastly, I would like to remind you that the March Prize Draw closes on 12th June 2022. We will be notifying winners shortly afterwards, so look out for our letter as you may be one of our lucky winners. Good luck!

With our best wishes,

HL Mahoney-Smith
